Avery Chen

avery.chen@example.com | Chicago, IL | linkedin.com/in/avery-chen-example | averychen.example.com

EXPERIENCE

Brightline Analytics – Senior Product Marketing Manager Mar 2021 – Present

- Repositioned the core platform from dashboards to decision automation after 38 customer and lost-deal interviews; win rate against the main competitor rose from 24% to 37% over the next three quarters.
- Led the launch of the forecasting module, the company's largest release of 2023: a 6-week plan across product, sales, and customer success that produced $3.1M in new pipeline in its first quarter.
- Co-led the 2024 pricing and packaging redesign with the heads of product and finance, moving from per-seat to usage tiers; average contract value rose 18% the following year with no change in churn.
- Built the company's first win/loss program: monthly third-party interviews, a tagged deal database, and a quarterly readout to the executive team; two pricing changes came out of it.
- Manages 2 product marketing managers, hired both, and promoted one to senior in 2025.
- Writes and maintains battlecards for 5 competitors; by CRM tagging, sales uses them in about 60% of late-stage deals.
- Runs quarterly sales enablement for a 45-person sales team: a messaging certification for new hires and a readiness session before every major release.
- Owns relationships with two industry analyst firms; the platform was included in a major analyst evaluation for the first time in 2024.

Brightline Analytics – Product Marketing Manager Jun 2019 – Feb 2021

- Wrote the company's first messaging framework and personas from 24 customer interviews; the website, sales deck, and onboarding still use them.
- Set up the launch process the company still runs: a tiered launch calendar and a one-page brief for every release.
- Built the first sales deck, an ROI calculator, and 12 customer case studies; the case studies were cited in 30% of 2020's closed-won deals.

Cobalt Freight Systems – Product Marketing Manager Aug 2017 – May 2019

- Launched the carrier mobile app to 3,000 trucking companies; adoption reached 41% of active carriers in nine months, against a goal of 30%.
- Ran the company's first pricing survey, of 400 carriers, which set the mobile app's paid tier.
- Ran quarterly roadmap reviews with the 8-member customer advisory board, alongside 2 product managers.

Harbor & Pine – Marketing Strategist Jul 2014 – Jul 2017

- Led messaging and market research projects for 14 B2B clients in software, logistics, and industrial manufacturing.

SPEAKING & WRITING

Speaker, "Win/loss interviews sales will actually read," Chicago Product Marketing Meetup, 2024.
Author, "Pricing is a positioning decision," guest post on a product marketing community blog, 2023.

AWARDS

Brightline Analytics company award for the forecasting launch, 2023.

EDUCATION

Lakeshore University Chicago, IL
B.A. Economics May 2014

- Minor in statistics.

Lakeshore University School of Business Chicago, IL
Certificate, Pricing Strategy Dec 2022

- Evening program; capstone on usage-based pricing for B2B software.

SKILLS

Product marketing: positioning and messaging, launches, pricing and packaging, competitive intelligence, win/loss analysis, sales enablement, customer research
Management: hiring, coaching, running a two-person team
Tools: Salesforce, HubSpot, Gong, Figma, Looker, SQL for reporting queries